The Rat 1912, 1924, 1936, 1948, 1960, 1972, 1984, 1996, 2008

Every Rat will be pleased to learn that the past year of the Dragon had been one of the best years for the Rats and that the outlook for 2012 sees them pretty much in the pole position.

Rats are expected to benefit from the mighty Dragon who is in particular also their traditional soul mate. Of course, the Rats will also not appreciate the riddles of the Dragon character, but at least they are smart enough to distinguish between reality and illusion what is about to become the main challenge during the year of the Dragon in which many things won't be real. Rats will also appreciate the more sociable vibe during the Dragon year and some good fun should be expected.

The Ox 1913, 1925, 1937, 1949, 1961, 1973, 1985, 1997, 2009

The year of the Rabbit had seen many Ox's doing extremely well and some of that momentum should get carried into the year of the Dragon that will start early by January 23rd. Unfortunately the craze and illusions of the Dragon are likely to confuse and derail a few Ox's later on during a strange year with some disappointment waiting for the perhaps most strongest of all the twelve symbols. But at least a thick skin and some tremendous willpower will help Ox's to get over into the 2013 year of the Snake which will be some total opposite with a much more down to earth character. Until then the Ox will need to learn flying and to prevail on unstable grounds that reflect the Dragon character and his records of being the master of illusions with a reliability factor of pretty much low as zero. Of course, every Ox hates that but instead of falling into rage any of such situations will be better treated with a generous smile and some acceptance of the flimsy Dragon vibe.

The Tiger 1914, 1926, 1938, 1950, 1962, 1974, 1986, 1998, 2010

There is a great initial sympathy between the Dragon and the Tiger as they somehow tend to feel being important as people usually approach them with a lot of organic respect due to their frequently charismatic appearance. But the big difference is, that the Tiger is always very cautious and down to earth in its own often very peculiar ways whilst the Dragon is often a synonym for some dubious high flyers. And that is pretty much what the Tigers will have to expect during the 2012 year of the Dragon when many things and promises may turn out as mere illusions or fake.

Nevertheless, the mighty Dragon always loves them Tigers and he will surely provide enough fun and adventure to make 2012 a highly entertaining year. Especially when Tigers will be able to drop some certain negative ways of thinking, some great moments will be given.

The Rabbit 1915, 1927, 1939, 1951, 1963, 1975, 1987, 1999, 2011

What goes up, will come down ... and after 2 wonderful years the mighty Dragon could slow down the speed of the Rabbits significantly.

Already during the last months of the Rabbit year some more bad news were noticed mainly in conjunction with health and misfortune. And somehow the Rabbits will have to adjust to less fortune and more problems for some 12 months before the more favourable Snake will write the guidelines for 2013. Until then the road for the Rabbits will not be boring, but obviously more risky and with some inevitable disappointments all along the way. However, it won't be a bad year, but not at the same incredible success level that we have seen over the past 2 years.

The Dragon 1916, 1928, 1940, 1952, 1964, 1976, 1988, 2000, 2012

Many Dragons will find themselves confronted with great opportunities during their big time year 2012 but at the same time the overall pressure will also increase significantly and forced them to deliver even more than in recent years. Especially those who are born in years of the Fire Dragon will see some challenges as the year 2012 belongs to the Water Dragon, what is in fact the least beneficial Dragon year for them whilst all born in a wood year are likely to capitalize with ease.

Often Dragons fail through emotional behaviour and sluggish delivery what usually prevents them from finding the right team. Most obviously they perform at best once they can manage to find the right support through a competent environment as often shown in sports, business and politics. Once on their own Dragons become less convincing and successful though they even very much prefer to stay free and remain in total control. That's why Dragons are well advised to remain within positive circles and to listen carefully to those who can pave a way into the future.

The Snake 1917, 1929, 1941, 1953, 1965, 1977, 1989, 2001

Snakes are likely to enjoy a lively year of the Dragon with many riddles and opportunities.

However the Snake should try to learn flying to make the most out of it but also to distinguish between illusions and reality. Being great observers the Snake won't have much of a problem with it but the overall positive spirit of Dragon years is likely to let some party Snakes to go way over the top. So it will be all about relaxation and feeling free but without overdoing it.

The Horse 1918, 1930, 1942, 1954, 1966, 1978, 1990, 2002

Many leaders will have a hard time to defend their titles during the turmoil of the 2012 Dragon year during which illusions and riddles will be all along the way for the brave Horses. For sure, the Horse and the Dragon may understand each other well when it come to having fun and parties, but after a while the master of illusions is feeling bored and the Horse will feel confused and misunderstood. So, nothing is real in a year of the Dragon and Horses will have to learn flying or waiting for the much more suitable year of the Snake that starts in 2013. Until then a large dose of tolerance and patience will help to get through a year of false promises and unsolid action. At least it will be a sociable year with some fun along the way. But all those who seek deals and business will need to find something more reliable than the average Dragon in order to avoid losses and disappointment.

The Goat 1919, 1931, 1943, 1955,1967, 1979, 1991, 2003

Very few symbols had a worse 2011 than the Goats when death and severe losses had been a truly tough spell throughout a year with only very few winners.

But now the airy 2012 Dragon Year for the Goat is likely to bring improvements and a change in spirit and on the fortune scale as often the Goat becomes a great inspiration for Dragons who are always looking out for interesting opportunities. That's where the Goat will come in as the general demand for creativity and positive constructions will increase a lot during 2012 with many developments and big plans around. Goats will be required as architects and coaches when everyone is making big Dragon plans for 2012 so that a variety of attractive options should be waiting for them all along the way.

The Monkey 1920, 1932, 1944, 1956,1968, 1980, 1992, 2004

Monkeys saw severe ups and downs in a surprisingly very mixed 2011 but now in 2012 their favorite buddy the mighty Dragon will be in charge of the general vibes so that a great party and some exceptional success and progress seems to be fairly feasible.

Inspired by the much more sociable and lively spirit of the Dragon the Monkeys will receive a fair dose of adrenaline and adventurous feelings that may open up new horizons. However, the trick will be not to get caught up or carried away by the illusions that the Dragon loves to provide in order to make him look bigger and much more promising than he in fact is.

But most Monkeys are smart enough to distinguish between illusion and reality so that it won't be that difficult for them to remain fairly immune against blenders and false friends.

The Rooster 1921, 1933, 1945, 1957,1969, 1981, 1993, 2005

A look back at the last year of the Dragon reveals a massive dose of fortune that had plummet in particular on so many Rooster ladies who could now expect something similar as the mighty Dragon seems to be a total fan of Rooster beauty.

However, passionate Rooster will have to watch out as not all that glitters is gold and especially falling in love with a Dragon may become a painful experience as the master of illusions is always on the move and certainly not steady or in any way reliable. Anyway, a great ride on the Dragon vibe can be expected and the year will be full of opportunities especially in the field of love and passion.

So hopefully a lot of Rooster will get ready to fly in order to find similar new horizons and big time love like back in the year 2000.

The Dog 1922, 1934, 1946, 1958, 1970, 1982, 1994, 2006

After a decent year of the Rabbit the 2012 year of the Dragon will even be a bit more entertaining, sociable and inspiring.

Of course there will be many confusing riddles to be solved, but the overall outlook is as positive as were the results for Madonna during one of her best years ever back in the 2000 year of the Dragon. In that year she had another No.1 hit, a new baby and a giant concert on the Internet for a 9 million audience. Perhaps Justin Bieber might be able to top that though the main goal for the 2012 Dragonyear will be avoiding errors and failure caused by the amount of illusions that the Dragon will also provide for the brave dogs who are actually all very down to earth and not such a great fan of the high flying Dragon. Anyway, all instincts will help to avoid getting deceived and the Dogs are likely to see a fine year in 2012.

After a fairly mixed 2011 the Pigs are now aiming for a much more enjoyable and sociable Dragon year with soothing fun and friendliness.

Misfortune will fade and the only thing that the Pig will have to watch out for are the attractive illusions that will also be included in the Dragon package. Some extra caution is badly needed to make 2012 a success as many opportunities can be expected, but only a few may turn out for real. Traditionally many Pig ladies are madly in love with Dragons so that they should know the score with ease. Of course the Dragon loves a humble Pig at any time so that a large dose of positive cosmic support is now to be expected.
